45 Sessions	23+ Sessions on ColdFusion	25 of the top speakers

General Information

July 20-21, 2017 • The National Press Club Washington D.C.

Give us 2 days and we will give you:

- In-depth, solid presentations on more advanced topics – perfect for your intermediate and senior developers!

- Opportunity to Improve or Gain New Skills

- 6 to 1 Attendee to Speaker Ratio

- An intimate atmosphere – small enough to give your developers access to those experienced speakers and attendees, so that they will learn even while they network!

- Four tracks this year! – We offer four simultaneous tracks of sessions, so there is always a session that can benefit your organization.

cf.Objective() Overview

cf.Objective() has been successfully providing developers with quality training for over 10 years. Originally in Minneapolis, MN we are moving to Washington, DC with content geared toward mid-to-advanced-level developers. The conference is focused primarily on ColdFusion/CFML, but has grown with its audience over the years and now features talks on JavaScript, Java, Git, Groovy, the JVM, SQL, NoSQL and other related technologies as well. The conference session list typically includes topics by speakers from companies such as Google, Adobe, Mozilla, Netflix, and IBM.
